Amtech Releases Enhanced Document Management Tool
Going lean and "paperless" becomes more achievable than ever for box makers

Fort Washington, PA – Amtech Software, the long-time market leader in business software for corrugated and folding carton manufacturers, announces the release of its second generation document management software – Retrieve2.0. The enhanced Imaginera ERP add-on module is designed to help business owners navigate through today's tough economic conditions and remain profitable by cutting costs and streamlining processes.

"If your plant's business process includes wasted time and resources chasing down paperwork for approvals, filing or retrieving documents to satisfy customer demands," asks Amtech President and Owner Cosmo DeNicola, "then Retrieve2.0 is the solution for you."

Retrieve2.0 will enable businesses to archive, process, retrieve and research document transactions without leaving your workstation. The software electronically captures documents, and automates the distribution of all printed documents, reports and forms. Lastly, instant desktop retrieval of any document stored in the system will greatly improve employee productivity.

Seamlessly integrated with the Imaginera ERP accounting and manufacturing applications, Retrieve 2.0 will dramatically cut costs by reducing filing time, eliminating storage space, lost or misfiled documents and making document shipping charges a thing of the past.
